

Roll Your Soul – Maria Wilman

General Description, Song Lyrics, Background, Mood Board

General Description

- You are an experienced videographer. We want to film and produce a music video; you can see our previous two videos in YouTube
- You are preferably based in London in order to facilitate interactions with us.
- Most shooting is likely to be indoors – preferably, you have access to a studio that we can use.
- In this document, we are providing the song's lyrics, a bit of background to the song and mood board of pictures depicting some of the scenes we would like to discuss with you.
- We want to be part of the editing process after the shooting has taken place; that means sitting with you to select the clips, their length and how they are mixed.
- We want your advice to make sure it is a fantastic video. We will also bring very clear ideas in terms of what we want
- At the end, we will want to have the full video in high res as well all the raw footage and unused clips.
- We will likely need a make-up artist; we can find our own, but we will gladly accept your recommendations.
- We will also likely need a choreographer; again, we will take your recommendations.
- We will evaluate proposals in one day after closing and get back to you quickly.
- We look forward to hearing from you.

Song Lyrics

*Devil came to visit last night,
Smiled and said I looked alright.
Ready to go and feeling high,
I agreed the terms, don't ask me why.*

*Possibilities are endless,
If you walk on the dark side,
What a ride going senseless,
Are you sure you wanna try..?*

*Wanna have power and gold,
Have to sell your soul.
Wanna sit on the highest throne,
Have to sell your soul.*

*Choices are yours, no one else to blame,
Always liked to take the fast lane,
Mirrors and stop signs don't really apply,
There's always something you can buy.*

*You're taking me for granted,
As you're walking on the dark side,
It's the seed that has been planted,
Are you sure you're wanna try...?*

*Wanna have power and gold,
Have to sell your soul.
Wanna sit on the highest throne,
Have to sell your soul.*

*Who said that life is really fair,
Like tossing coins up in the air,
Charge your dice and let them roll,
You may want to save your soul...*

*Devil came and sang me a song,
A tune I recognise from long ago,
Reminded me how little a ride really cost,
As long as you are prepared to sell your soul.*

*Possibilities are endless,
If you walk on the dark side,
What a ride going senseless,
Are you sure you wanna try..?*

*Wanna have power and gold,
Have to sell your soul.
Wanna sit on the highest throne,
Have to sell your soul*

*Wanna cleverly disguise,
Who you are for who you are not,
It's not hard to visualise,
When you sell your soul*

Background

"I felt compelled to write about the flip side, the darkness in all of us.

I particularly like the darkness. I see it as an abundance of possibilities for exploration, for digging deeper, for finding who we really are and potentially, who we could be.

Our dark side, traditionally external and represented by the devil's temptation, is offered as what we don't really want to face, to admit, to deal with, what we cover up, the lies we tell others and ourselves.

Selling ourselves, our souls, means accepting oppression, corruption, discrimination, violation of human dignity and rights.

We collude, we accept the ride, we participate, we take part directly or indirectly. Power and gold are traded for integrity, decency, justice, and truth."
