Jamie, the founder of Temporary Truth Creative Studios, has journeyed ever since leaving his home in Scotland at just 21 years old to search for something larger than himself, something that had always felt out of reach. Having always been observant, curious and creative - a combination that led him to rediscover himself through travels and experiences with various cultures and people.

His work is his display of gratitude to life and the multitude of experiences it presents. Jamie values the entire spectrum. From the deepest dark point to the absolute bright, which is all to be reflected through his work and passion. The theme of his art can be described to be that of raw authenticity fueled by emotions and illustrated by rich, vibrant colors.

Compositionally we see an appreciation between both the minimal and overloaded. Cultures are explored and Jamie's experiences are shared through both people and place. Embracing encounters with people through portraiture photography and documentary film. Exploration of places through his perceptions of geometric architecture constructed with stories of the past, present, and future.

Jamie's work is a combination of his visions and his life, allowing him to create value and cultivate lasting relationships on a daily basis.

OUR MISSION

“To create unique customer experiences through alignment of identity and expression by delivering the highest quality visual solutions that inspire action, awaken empathy and drive impact.”

At Temporary Truth it is our vision to help unearth the creative in all of us by giving voice to global change makers. To make the unseen seen through captivating visual storytelling. Because it's all one long process, one journey, one story.

We love to work together with you to solve your pain points and bring solutions that advance your business. Creating unique customer experiences through alignment of identity and expression by delivering the highest quality visual solutions that inspire action, awaken empathy and drive impact.

OUR HISTORY

"The Temporary Nature of things is where it's true beauty lies. In the moments between moments lie untold truths."

TTC Began in 2014 as Jamie MacGregor took a risk to follow his dreams and pursue a career in photography. He always loved to seek the story behind moments. Shooting everyday in the streets of Taipei as a documentary photographer he built up his skills through his dedication to his craft. Jamie then began to work as a fashion photographer before transitioning into video. Through video he grew into creating marketing assets that offered business solutions for small businesses. The desire to always do more and grow lead Jamie to create the company Temporary Truth Creative.

In 2020 TTC was established officially and continues to hold growth through the journey of creation as our driving core value.

Humble.

Attitude is everything.

I come to work through choice not necessity. We will act in a way that is appropriate to the environment. I will choose my attitude. I will be authentic and professional.

Helpful.

We always seek first to understand.

We prioritize clear and enthusiastic communication that is driven by a desire to help. We are customer centric, and ensure they feel valued throughout our working together. Be present, be playful.

Honest.

Speak your truth.

We always seek to create genuine relationships with each other, our clients, and to facilitate that same relationship between clients and their customers.

Hungry.

Act without the ego.

We are growth focused. We seek to create value, to improve ourselves, and support others. We take initiative and are accountable to one another in our journey to create excellence. We always over-deliver. Period.
