

Bôa is looking for an animated lyric video for their latest single "walk with me". Ideally this should feature gothic, alt indie, alt rock vibes, possibly including the band's motif of a snake moving. Looking for eye catching, satisfying movement on screen.

The images attached are the single cover art, original photo, original motif and the band's logo. Currently the thought is to Include cover art and logo as a static element while lyrics come up on screen with the animation, but we are open to seeing your ideas!
